

The Story

I know a fairy tale ... A fairy tale just for you
A prince guided by the beat of a drum is coming to make it all true
Moonbeams and shooting stars are shining so turn off your light
I know a fairy tale ... a story I'll tell you tonight

Once upon a time in a land far away
A boy and his father took a hike one day
The boy found a drum that was old and looking beat
And brought to his house so his mother could keep it

Buried in a closet with the junk they throw away
The boy heard the drum calling out to be played
He started hearing things that nobody understood
The rhythm of the drum was sounding way too good

The drum was busy talking not a word was being said
But the positive message still danced in the heads
Of the kids on the block each and every day
And the birds in the flock as they flew by the way

And one by one all the parents came around
And started hanging out just to listen to the sound
When he played in nature or even on the street
The rhythm child drum always brought the beat

I know a fairy tale ... A fairy tale just for you
A prince guided by the beat of a drum is coming to make it all true
Moonbeams and shooting stars are shining so turn off your light
I know a fairy tale ... a story I'll tell you tonight
