

Welcome to this Life

You make me look into the future
For you, you know I'll work a little harder
The light of hope is in your vision
I've made a decision
You bring your your own point of view

Welcome to this life ... little child of love

You were born into the right time
When your spirit has guided you into my life
Hope is on the rise and I'll be by your side
You know we'll make it through all right

Welcome to this life ... little child of love

A sense of power that comes from you now
Has given us a sign
A breath of life is letting us know that it's your time

And the love of two that has brought you here
Is ready to meet you and greet you here
The sun is shining in your sky
Moon rising in your night
When you come to see the light

Welcome to this life ... little child of love
